CODE OF CONDUCT

We have set out the expectations we have of our people through this Code, which aims to show you what it means to be part of the charity AWA DANCE (Advancing Women's Aspirations with Dance). We value and appreciate what you do for our organisation and want to inspire the commitment of our people around our vision of a world where women, girls and those who consistently live and identify as women, regardless of the gender assigned to them at birth, get empowered as leaders of today and tomorrow.

In practice, this means that in the work that we do in the UK (and abroad), all our people at AWA DANCE are expected to act in accordance with this Code. "Our people" in this Code refers to employees (UK-based and overseas delegates), freelancers, consultants, volunteers, interns, staff-on-loan and those working under our name and legal status. We aim to ensure that organisations and individuals with whom we work reflect our values. This Code also applies to individuals with whom the organisation has a close but indirect association, such as staff of partners acting in cooperation with us.

We are committed to providing you with a safe, inclusive, empowering and collaborative environment. This Code highlights ten key areas of professional conduct, and ensures that we uphold the highest ethical, professional and quality standards in the support we provide to our participants.

OUR PEOPLE AT AWA DANCE MUST

1. Bring to life (understand, engage and share) the five AWA DANCE values when working in and outside the organisation (Dream big, take Action, Navigate the world, Create an artistic and leadership voice and Empower yourself and others)
2. Understand the core intersecting areas of our work: Leadership + Dance + Women & Girls (those who consistently live and identify as women, regardless of the gender assigned to them at birth)
3. Lead any activity based on our leadership approach, focused on empowering, transformation, adaptability, intersectionality, empathy, inclusion and equality
4. Treat all people with dignity and respect
5. Respect all people equally. We have an ethical and legal responsibility to celebrate and champion equality and diversity. We have a zero-tolerance policy towards harassment, bullying, abuse, discrimination, exploitation or violence
6. Being responsible, transparent and accountable for all our actions
7. We expect our people to declare any gifts or hospitality by email to the Charity Director Avatâra Ayuso or the Chairs of the Board, and to manage any conflicts of interest according to our internal process.
8. Treat all information and data (including photographs and video footage) with sensitivity. Respect people's right to personal privacy
9. Challenge unacceptable behaviour and report all allegations/suspicions of abuse to the relevant child & vulnerable adults protection lead. Please see our Safeguarding Policy for further detail on our process for reporting Safeguarding issues

In our roles as dance teachers and workshop leaders we align ourselves to the Code of professional Conduct for Teachers as outlined by The Council for Dance, Drama and Musical Theatre, CDMT, formerly known as the Council for Dance Education and Training, which is the quality assurance and membership body for the professional dance, drama and musical theatre industries in the United Kingdom.
